

I think what the NAB is doing is stupid I, for one, benefit greatly from XM Traffic and weather stations. When I am on a road trip, I tune in to the channel that corresponds to where I am going and it gives me the traffic and weather issues for that city. I also think that since I am paying close to $10 a month for this information the NAB has no right or reason to shut it down, or try to. This is only my opinion.
